

SIDNEY DUNKEL WINS MULTIPLE WORLD TITLES AT CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW

National Ranch and Stock Horse Alliance, Guthrie, Oklahoma – Sidney Dunkel of Archer City captured multiple class world championships and national championships at the inaugural National Ranch and Stock Horse Alliance (NRSHA) National Championship Show held in conjunction with the Zoetis AQHA Versatility Ranch Horse (VRH) World Championship Show at the Lazy E in Guthrie, Oklahoma.

She was named NRSHA All Around Amateur National Champion, and also earned an AQHA Reserve World Championship in Versatility Ranch Horse All Around competition. Sidney showed Bobbie Can Do, a horse she trained herself. The 8-year-old gelding was bred by the W.T. Waggoner Estate, a Zoetis AQHA Ranching Heritage Breeder.

During the week-long competition, Sidney was named VRH champion and NRSHA national champion in Amateur Ranch Cow Work and Amateur Ranch Riding with personal-best high scores. She also won the Open Ranch Riding in the Ranching Heritage portion of the competition. Nearly 725 entries competed in ranch trail, ranch reining, ranch riding, ranch cutting, ranch boxing and ranch cow work.

The newly formed National Ranch and Stock Horse Alliance is comprised of six ranch/stock horse associations – East Coast Stock Horse Association, National Versatility Ranch Horse Association, Oklahoma Stock Horse Association, Stock Horse of Texas, Western States Versatility Ranch Horse Association and the American Quarter Horse Association.

NRSAHA classes were held concurrently with the Zoetis AQHA Versatility Ranch Horse World Championship Show classes. More information about NRSNA can be found at www.ranchhorse.net.

-30-

Photo credit to The American Quarter Horse Journal