ALLORA LEONARD CROWNED ALL-AROUND CHAMPION AT NATIONAL RANCH AND STOCK HORSE ALLIANCE NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW

National Ranch and Stock Horse Alliance, Guthrie, Oklahoma – She does it again! Allora Leonard of Voca, Texas, repeated as the all-around Limited Youth champion at the National Ranch and Stock Horse Alliance National Championship Show held in conjunction with the AQHA Versatility Ranch Horse World Championships recently at the Lazy E Arena in Guthrie, Oklahoma.

Allora not only won the NRSHA all-around youth title back-to-back years, she also won the VRH Limited Youth title this year. After winning last year on Chex Star Shiner, she tried her hand with Stylish Lil Boon and got the job done in every aspect of the arena. She dominated in every class, finishing 1st in cow work, 1st in cutting, 1st in reining, 1st in ranch riding and 2nd in trail. She couldn't hide the smile on her face as she talked about her cheering section. "My biggest highlight was truly seeing the team of people behind me cheering me on. I was amazed with how many people I had in my corner both there in Guthrie, but also at home."

Stylish Lil Boon is a 2017 gelding by MR Playinstylish and out of Shesalittleredboon was bred by Kit and Charlie Moncrief of Fort Worth, Texas.

The NRSHA all-around limited youth received a prize package that included a sterling-silver buckle, bronze trophy, champion neck ribbon, specially designed logoed jacket and champion patch.

More than 470 entries competed in NRSHA ranch trail, ranch reining, ranch riding, ranch cutting, ranch boxing and ranch cow work across 7 different divisions. Riders qualified for the National Championship Show by competing at three or more shows with one of the NRSHA partners.
